Understanding Platting Technical Requirements

A video presentation made by Darren R. Leavitt, P.L.S. will be featured as an opportunity to obtain required training hours for Planning Commission and Board of Zoning Appeals members.

The video will explore the basic platting design requirements and how each agency involved is a vital part of the entire solution. The presentation will define many of the commonly used terms and discuss land subdivision and planning, residential planning concepts, subdivision design principles and standards, subdivision surveying and plat preparation, and engineering aspects of land subdivision. The length of the presentation is approximately 1.5 hours.
